Six weeks more and the democratic party will be left standing in the rain.

Brains, conscience, heart, character and principle, will win in this campaign.

It would be a very natural result of the canvass for Cleveland to lose every northern state. That is just what he is likely to do.

The German republicans are going to show the democratic party that they love Blaine the more for the slanders the democrats have heaped upon him.

The next earthquake will take place Tuesday night, October 14, when the shock will be distinctly heard and felt by the democratic party throughout Ohio.

There is a certainty in the air that a big victory will follow the footsteps of Mr. Blaine to Ohio. Ohio is going to second the motion of Maine with a mighty loud voice.

Two or three weeks ago republican estimates placed Blaine's plurality in New York at from 20,000 to 30,000. Things are different now. The best judges put it at from 50,000 to 60,000.

A free advertisement is offered by the Boston Journal to those republicans who declared for Blaine, but have come out for Cleveland since the publication of the last batch of Mulligan letters. No one has raised his hand.

Says the Philadelphia Press: "Pratt is the name of the democratic candidate for governor of of Wisconsin. His name and his politics are equally against his election." Especially his politics, for he has tried that twice before.

Every day makes the republicans gladder that they exchanged a few dyspeptic independents for thousands from the rank and file of the democratic party who have enthusiasm for Blaine and vigorous blood in their veins.

The great missionary enterprise of the republican party can't be concluded with this canvass. As long as the democratic party is in the field with its degenerating political morals, there will be work and success for the republican party.

It seems that cranks still infest the field of dramatic criticism. Here is the latest: "Margaret Mather's personation of Lady Macbeth is so successful that many critics pronounced her to be superior to Charlotte Cushman or Mrs. Siddons.

Down in Indiana where democratic free trade is in bad repute, the prospects are much brighter now than they were at this stage of the contest four years ago, and the state will give Blaine and Logan a larger majority than Garfield and Arthur received in 1880.

The latest estimates from Kansas are that the state will give from 50,000 to 60,000 plurality for Blaine. St. John will cut no figure in the campaign in his own state. He hasn't the confidence of anybody except those who want to see the republican party defeated

The only woman on record who ever had the honesty and the courage to give her age without being asked, was the late Catherine Beecher. When quite advanced in life she received an offer of marriage from a gentleman of high character, wealth and culture. But the only response to the offer was a little note containing these significant words: "Dear M——, I was born in the year 1800."

Some Wisconsin republican is reported to have said to the national republican committee in New York that all the Germans who have been in the habit of voting with the republican party in this state will vote with us this fall. In a very large sense this is true. The defection among that class of voters is not near so great as the democrats would have the public believe.

The meeting of General Grant and Mr. Blaine in New York was one of the most interesting that has occurred in that city between two great men for a long time. General Grant spoke earnestly and hopefully of republican prospects, and then said: "They are abusing you as they have abused me, but they will elect you nevertheless. For my own part, I do not know of any time when republican success was more essential to national prosperity than at present."

The condition of the republican situation in New York when Blaine visited the city last week is far different from what it was when Garfield made a visit there after his nomination. Mr. Blaine finds no warring factions in his own party and during his brief stay received assurance from the leaders that the state can take care of itself, and that without any outside assistance New York is good for from 25,000 to 50,000 republican majority.

As was said in the Gazette the other day, those who have known Mr. Blaine the longest and the best, those who have worked with him in congress year after year, are among the most earnest in sounding his praise. And this praise does not come altogether from republicans. Democrats as well as republicans bear strong testimony to Mr. Blaine's noble qualities of heart and mind.

When General Thomas Ewing, the distinguished Ohio politician and ex-member of congress, who has been a life-long democrat, was in Chicago the other day, he gave the Times the following estimate of Mr. Blaine: "In every private relation of life—as son, husband, father, friend, I know no kinder, purer or better man, and among our public men he stands unsurpassed as an embodiment of the spirit and genius of the American people. I don't believe if every letter he ever wrote and every word he ever uttered were published to the world that they would fasten on him a single act or thought of official corruption. If a man be true in all private relations, as from his boyhood I have known him to be, he is not likely to be false to the people. The worst thing I know of Blaine is that he is identified with and put forward by a party which has been in office too long already."

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE TWO.

The readers of the Gazette will remember that the New York Independent first came out for Cleveland, supposing that the moral issue would be the only issue that would arise in the campaign. But after the democrats had forced that issue a little further than they found it practicible, and when the moral issue threatened to prove the political death of the democratic candidate, the Independent found it was on the wrong side, and at once changed its position and began to support the republican party.

The Independent has wisely let the moral part of the issue drop, and has taken up another issue which is one of the chief questions in this campaign, and in a nutshell form it gives the difference between the two parties: "The democratic theory is that all tariff duties should be levied for 'revenue only,' without any regard to the principle of protection to American industry. The republican theory is that, while these duties are levied for revenue as one of their reasons, they should also be so adjusted as to make them protective whenever and wherever protection is needed. This in practical result, makes a very wide difference between the two parties, and forms one among many reasons why the people should not trust the democratic party with the control of the government. The theory of that party, if put in practice, would be fatal to many branches of American industry, unless wages were reduced to the pauper rates paid in Europe."

SIGNIFICANT WORDS.

When the great mass meeting of Irish-Americans was held in New York the other day, the chairman of the meeting received telegrams from nearly every state in the Union encouraging the movement of that nationality to support Blaine and Logan. These expressions of confidence and good will which flashed over the wires, were not from republicans, but from democrats who are intelligent enough to understand that with James G. Blaine at the head of the republican administration, with encouragement and freedom and protection for our industries at home, with a closer commercial friendly relation with the powers of America outside the United States, with a firm yet peaceful policy toward all foreign powers, American influence and American ideas will dominate over the American continent, and for the whole people of the United States there will be opened a path of shining light and prosperity, that would be impossible under the imbecile administration of a democrat like Cleveland. Here are a few telegrams from prominent Irish-Americans:

Richard Powers, president of the Seamen's Union, of the United States, Chicago,—"I regret my inability to meet with you. I sympathize with the sentiment that moves the Irish-Americans to the support of James G. Blaine and approve Alexander Sullivan's position."

Ex-Alderman McAuley, Chicago—"I am heart and soul with you, and all good Irish-American in the support of Blaine and Logan, and against all monopolists I fully indorse Alexander Sullivan."

John Gibbons, ex-democratic member Iowa legislature—"I am gratified that the democratic masses possess the intelligence, manhood and independence to rebuke the insult offered them in the nomination of Grover Cleveland, and while I would deprecate anything that would savor of Irish or German nationality in American politics, the efforts of that sterling Irish-American and able conservative leader, Alexander Sullivan, to remove the long-standing opprobrium that 'the Irish are voting cattle,' have my hearty co-operation and that of every thinking man of our race."

Jeremiah Riordan, St. Louis—"The nomination of Cleveland forces me to leave the party of my first love and support Blaine."

D. C. Fe[illegible]y, J. M. Casey, Patrick Cox and John Fahy, Rochester—"Rochester sends greeting to Alexander Sullivan and pledges a rousing majority for Blaine and Logan in Monroe county."

William Hawley, editor The Lake Vindicator—"I shall give my first republican vote for Blaine and Logan."

John Atkinson and fifty others of Detroit—"Are pledged to stand for Blaine and Logan."

N. T. McDonnell, DesMoines, Iowa—"Long live the American Union, and God bless Irishmen for supporting Blaine and Logan."

A. J. O'Keef, president Blaine and Logan club, Grand Forks, Dakota—"Hurrah for Blaine and protection. Down with Cleveland and free trade. We were formerly democrats."

Austin Walsh, Merchants' Exchange, St. Louis—"I voted the democratic ticket for years. I am now for Blaine and Logan."

LOVE IN A COTTAGE

Was Not Just What a Massachusetts Miss Wanted.

So She Provided for a Rainy Day by Stealing $75,000 from Her Parents—Her Mother's Poignant Grief.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—At South Framingham lives Charles Robinson, with his wife and only daughter, Sadie. The latter is a pretty and precocious miss of 13 years, but her development has been apparently fully attained already, and with her weight of 180 pounds and her mature looks she will easily pass for a woman of at least 22. The family only lately moved from this city, and she was still a member of a Boston school. She had formed an attachment to a young man in this city (his identity is not yet revealed), and the removal of the family from town, taken in connection with the details of the Morosini romance, which she had eagerly read, induced her to determine on an elopement with the man of her choice. She was favored with a remarkable degree by the presence in her father's house of a valise containing $75,000, with which a house was to be purchased. This valise was constantly kept under surveillance by Mrs. Robinson, and at night was in close proximity to her head. Sadie thought that this would avail her husband in case—a la Morosini—Papa Robinson should cut them off, and accordingly, Friday morning, between 6 and 7 o'clock, she secured possession of it and hid it in the cellar. Later in the day she came into the city as usual, and it was not until after she had left home that her mother's great loss was discovered. The police were put in possession of the facts. Suspicion at once rested upon the servants, but they soon proved their innocence. The officers searched the house until 2 o'clock Saturday morning, and again during the day, but no trace of the bag could be found. In the afternoon they were informed by a reluctant neighbor that she had seen Sadie put a valise in the cellar. Sadie, who had in the meantime returned from Boston, was asked for an explanation. She at first indignantly denied it, but when confronted with the facts she confessed that she was the thief. She said that, on Friday morning, she took took the valise with her when she went to school in Boston. Thus far her story was true. She then said that she had given it to a woman in Boston. What her relations to this woman were she failed to say, but she told a blood-curdling story of having her life threatened unless she complied with the demand for money. She said she met the woman in the Albany station and gave her the valise containing the valuables. The woman she said, cut the valise open with a large knife, the same knife with which her life had been threatened, and transferred the contents of the valise to another. The woman was arrested Sunday morning and was held in custody all day. She denied having had anything to do with the robbery. The girl finally exonerated the woman, and confessed that she alone was to blame. She said that she took the valise to a drug-store and asked permission to leave it until Monday. She promised to conduct the officers to the store if they would take her to Boston. They did so. They drove up to the store and the clerk was sent for. The girl told him she wanted the valise she had left with him Friday, and he brought it to the carriage. It was hastily opened, and the money, stocks, and diamonds were all there, with the exception of from $100 to $200. She had taken the valuables from the old valise in the Providence depot and had thrown the empty bag into the Charles river. Having recovered the stolen property, the officers were anxious to ascertain the reasons the girl had for stealing. She confessed that she loved a young man, whose name she refused to give, and had taken the money with the intention of eloping with him Monday. The discovery of the robbery had interfered somewhat with her plans. The family refused to make any prosecution in the case, but they will undoubtedly adopt some means to take the romantic notions out of the girl's head and give her a more practical view of life. She has not been home since her crime was discovered, and is in the custody of a neighbor of her mother. Mrs. Robinson says that she regrets that the money was found, as she would rather have lost it all than have become cognizant of her daughter's guilt. She prays that she will not live to spend a cent of the recovered funds.

Prosperity of a Tennessee Colony.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 23.—At a meeting of the colonists at Rugby, over which Thomas Hughes himself presided, the affairs of the settlement were freely discussed, and it was ascertained that the company had spent $200,000 in developing the property. Mr. Wilkins, of England, said that this week he would begin the establishment of a college there, and other institutions are in store. The colony is now more prosperous than ever before.

Collision on the Hannibal & St. Jo.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 23.—Two freight trains on the Hannibal road collided near New Cambria, Mo., 170 miles east of here, early Monday morning. The trains were wrecked and three men, including the engineer of the west-bound train, were killed, and the conductor of the west bound and one other were fatally injured. The names are not yet learned. It is reported the west-bound train was running contrary to orders.

A Receiver Appointed.

The New Soldiers' Homes.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Gen. Franklin and his associates of the board of managers of soldiers' homes left this city Monday evening for a trip through Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas, to select the site for the additional institution authorized by congress.

A Druggist's Story.

Mr. Isaac C. Chapman, druggist, Newburg, N. Y., writes us: "I have for the past ten years sold several gross of DR. WM. HALL'S FOR THE LUNGS. I can say of it what I cannot say of any other medicine. I have never heard a customer speak of it but to praise its virtues in the highest manner. I have recommended it in a great many cases of Whooping Cough, with the happiest effects. I have used it in my own family for many years; in fact, always have a bottle in the medicine closet.

RIOT AT A CIRCUS.

Cowboys Bring on a Fight with Fatal Results.

WASHINGTON, Kan., Sept. 23.—A serious riot took place at Burr Oaks, Jewell county, this state, on the occasion of the presence in that town of Orton's circus. The riot was caused by a number of cowboys and town roughs, who hissed the circus performers so much that Orton demanded order before he would proceed with the show. This created an ill-feeling, which was increased by a quarrel between a man named Elliott, from Mankato, and Claude Powers, an adopted son of Orton's. Elliott was knocked down by Powers and badly beaten. Elliott, with a gang of cowboys, followed the circus men round after the show, and in the evening again created a disturbance. While the showmen were taking down their tents they were constantly annoyed by the cowboys, and at last one of them was knocked down. This exasperated the circus men, and a general fight resulted, but no firearms were used. When the train was loaded and ready to start, it was found that the cowboys had cut it in two in several places, put boards and other obstructions on the track, and Elliot demanded the arrest of Powers. The mayor was sent for and endeavored to restore quiet. About this time a shot was fired by one of the cowboys and answered by a volley from the circus train, now about to pull out. J. Longnecker, an inoffensive bystander and father of a large family of children, was killed by this volley, and O'Neil, a boy, shot through the ankle. A second volley badly wounded Mayor Mann and two strangers from the country, the latter not seriously. Miles Orton, the proprietor of the circus, was doing his best to quiet his men, and at last the train started for Washington with Orton in the cab, heavily armed, and swearing he would kill the first man who attempted to ditch the train. The cars of the circus train were riddled with bullets, showing that the firing was not all done by the circus men. So far as can be learned, only one circus man, a horse-tender, was shot. All accounts agree that the circus men acted entirely in self-defense. No further trouble has occurred.

Seventeen members of Orton's circus company, including Miles Orton, the manager, were arrested here Saturday for complicity in the raid and taken back to Burr Oaks. Manager Orton was later discharged.

Knocked Out in Four Rounds.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—About 3,000 people assembled at the Union Base Ball park Wednesday night to witness the soft glove contest, four rounds, marquis of Queensberry rules, for $500 a side, between Patsy Cardiff, of Chicago, and Jack King, of St. Louis. Cardiff was backed by "Parson" Davies, of Chicago, and King by Tom Kelly, of St. Louis. The first round was dull and uninteresting. In the second round, after time had been called, King slipped and fell twice. In this round both men got in some good blows, but neither had the advantage. The third round was very interesting, and King got in some heavy blows on Cardiff's head, while the latter got in one good one under King's chin. In the fourth round King seemed to be exhausted, and Cardiff's repeated heavy blows on King's neck and chin seemed to tell on him, and before time was called, he was so played out that he could not ward off Cardiff's blows. When time was called, the police rushed into the ring and took possession of it. Al Spink, the referee, decided the fight in favor of Cardiff. "Parson" Davies says that Cardiff is the coming fighter, and he will back him in a four-round contest with any man in the country.

Big Interests Involved.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Final arguments were had, Monday, before Judge Wallace, in the United States circuit court, in the suit between the American Bell Telephone company and the People's Telephone company. The question to be determined is whether Professor A. G. Bell or Daniel Drawbaugh was the first inventor of the speaking telephone. Among the counsel representing the People's company is Senator George C. Edmunds, of Vermont. The arguments on behalf of the Bell Telephone company were begun by J. J. Storrow. He called attention to the mass of evidence already taken in the case, and explained the principle on which the telephone was constructed. Ex-Senator Conkling is also one of the counsel in the case. The interests involved amount to probably $100,000,000 and the result of the suit may be to break the telephone monopoly.

Pleuro-Pneumonia News.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 23.—A committee consisting of Dr. De Salmon, chief of the department of animal industry at Washington City, Hon. C. W. West, Frisbie & Lake, W. W. Estill, president of the Short Horn Breeders' association, and Dr. E. T. Haggard, conferred with Governor Knott, Monday, regarding measures to suppress the pleuro-pneumonia in this state. The governor refused to call a special session of the legislature. Frisbie & Lake, whose herd alone is affected, agreed to kill the diseased animals, provided the Short Horn association would guarantee them a value set by a committee consisting of Dr. Rutherford Douglass, of Lexington; J. C. Chinn, of Frankfort, and J. A. Middleton, of Shelbyville.

H. West, the blind orator, Hon. W. D. Kelley, and others. At Alliance and Massilon, on his way here Gen. Logan was received at the stations by large crowds.

Tried to Escape by Firing the Prison.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 23.—Sunday night at the convict camp the warden noticed the convicts keeping close to the prison door, and suspecting mischief, locked it. Soon after the convicts raised the cry of fire, and made a rush for the door, which they tried to break down. The guard was called, and going into the prison found fire in the upper bunk of the shack. It was extinguished with slight damage.

A Package of Troubles.

[Boston Globe.]

One rainy night, just as the workmen were hurrying home to supper, an old woman, carrying a large bundle of quilts, climbed on to a yellow south Boston car near the corner of Dover street and Shawmut avenue, taking a seat on the inside and leaving her bundle on the front platform. In a few moments the conductor came in, took her ticket and went forward to where two men were standing talking with driver. One of them passed out two checks which the conductor punched, and then said:

"I want you to pay for this bundle."

"I shall not pay for it, "said one of the men.

"I never have paid anything for it, and shan't now," replied the other looking at his companion in a mysterious manner.

"If you don't pay a fare on that, I shall throw it off."

"Off with it, if you think it your best way," came the reply, at which the conductor got mad and hurled it into the mud. The men paid no attention to the act, and continued to talk with the driver.

"Aren't you going to look out for your luggage!" asked the conductor after waiting a while for them to get off.

"Don't know anything about it," came the reply. "It don't belong to us."

Then that conductor gave the bell-rope a desperate yank and ran back after the bundle. When he returned with it all muddy, the old lady just let out on him, and he had to coax the two men on front to swear that it fell off by accident before she would consent to keep quiet.

A Tart Reply.

[Chicago Herald.]

In the shop of a boulevard pastry cook in Paris a young masher questioned the freshness of a tart. The shopkeeper was touched to the quick, and remarked: "I made tarts, young man, a good while before you were born." "I don't doubt it," was the reply, "and this must be one of them."

An Incendiary Fire Devastates Bronson, Michigan.

The Miscreant Discovered at His Work, Shot at, but Gets Away—Other Destructive Conflagrations.

COLDWATER, Mich., Sept. 23.—About 7 o'clock Sunday night flames were discovered between Knapp's boot and shoe store and D. Willis' grocery store in Bronson. Owing to the protracted drought, the fire spread rapidly. The buildings were of wood, and burned like tinder. The fire department of Bronson consists of one hand-engine, and, as the water supply was limited, the fire had full sway. Assistance was telegraphed for to Coldwater and Sturgis. The distance from Coldwater, twelve miles, was made in fourteen minutes, and in a short time after the arrival of the steamer the flames were under control.

Great excitement prevailed, and merchandise and furniture were removed from stores and houses and carried in vehicles of every description far from the scene of the conflagration, for it was believed the entire village would be destroyed. Frightened women fell into hysterics, and there was a cry for doctors on every side. Buildings on the opposite side of the street caught fire several times, and nearly every pane of glass was broken.

Twenty one buildings in all were consumed, including the places of business of H. Sanborn, saloon and grocery; F. Knapp, boots and shoes; D. Willis, grocery; R. Keifer, clothing; Rockwell & Crawford, drugs; Shephard & Sons, millinery and jewelry; Milo Clark, butter and eggs; Joe Watson, jeweler; Miss Akers, millinery; W. Barnum, books, stationery and dwelling. The above were situated on Chicago street. On Buchanan street there were burned O. B. Nichol's dwelling, and Bennet & Son's meat market, and on Madison street Frank Earl's confectionery, the postoffice, F. D. Jones, hardware; N. Nottingham, residence, the engine-house, B. Mearso, cigar factory; William Blass, billiard saloon. The loss will aggregate $35,000 or $40,000. The insurance is about $18,000, distributed in small amounts among various companies.

While the fire was in progress, a man was discovered on the opposite side of the street setting fire to a small shed in the rear of a large brick block. He was twice shot at and returned the fire, but in the confusion managed to escape. There is little doubt but the conflagration was the work of an incendiary. Farmers drove in from the country round and did good work removing goods, etc. The women of Bronson served refreshments to the firemen on the street. The firemen worked until 1 o'clock, Monday morning, and a heavy rain early in the morning did good service in extinguishing the burning debris.

Destructive Fire at Portland, Ore.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 23.—At 10 o'clock Monday night a fire broke out on the lower dock, which spread until the entire block was consumed, embracing the Esmod house, and destroying property to the value of $150,000. Church & Coulter, owners of the Esmond, lose $50,000, nearly covered by insurance; Henry O. Everding, $10,000; D. Mackay, $2,000; Portland Soda works, $10,000; Tatum & Brown, $15,000, and R. M. Wade & Co., $12,000. Barrett, the actor, and troupe, were guests of the hotel, but escaped without loss.

At Somerville, Mass.

SOMERVILLE, Mass., Sept. 23.—The two large buildings of the Middlesex Bleaching and Dye works were burned Monday afternoon. The buildings covered two and a half acres. They were filled with valuable fabrics, and the total loss is estimated to be $200,000, on which there is $65,000 insurance. The business was founded in 1800, and was the most extensive of the kind in this country. Two hundred men are disemployed.

In Business Difficulties.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Daniel Friedman & Co., wholesale jewelers, 182 Madison street, have failed. The liabilities are in the neighborhood of $40,000. The failure was due principally to bad management. The assets have not been ascertained.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Robert Ennever & Son, plumbers, at 191 Third avenue, assigned Monday. The full amount of their liabilities is not yet known, but they are said to have lost $60,000 in the big hotel at Rockaway Beach.

Col. Dudley Goes to Ohio.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 23.—Col. Dudley, commissioner of pensions whose resignation has been accepted, left Washington Monday afternoon for Ohio, where he will go into the campaign as one of Mr. Blaine's managers, and will probably not return to Washington until after the October election in that state. As Col. Dudley's resignation is not to take effect until Nov. 10, there is not much speculation here about the name of his successor. Political gossips here say that Col. Dudley is already booked for a place in Mr. Blaine's cabinet as secretary of the interior, in the event of Mr. Blaine's election, and that Col. Dudley's resignation was made at this time so as to allow him to devote his entire time from now until October to the Ohio campaign.

Wants to See How They Feel.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The duke of Cambridge, commander-in-chief of the British army, will visit Ireland in the early part of October, for the purpose of personally inspecting the troops and familiarizing himself with the condition and temper of the people. He will, it is understood, be the guest of the lord lieutenant.

A Burglar's Fatal Shot.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 23.—Mrs. J. B. Reynold's, wife of a conductor on the Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis railroad, was fatally shot in the abdomen in her residence, on Spring Hill, before daylight Monday morning, by a miscreant who was forcing an entrance into the house. She and her three little children were alone in the house. The murderer fled, but a posse is after him.

Indianapolis Wants Them All.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 23.—Monday the state board of agriculture appointed a committee to invite Blaine and Cleveland to visit Indianapolis during the next week, when the state fair is to be held. Butler and St. John have already consented to be present during the fair, and it is considered altogether probable that as Blaine will be in Ohio that week he will accept the invitation.

Going to Explain Northbrook.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—It is announced that Col. Egerton will come here from Constantinople to explain Lord Northbrook's plans for the future government of Egypt.

Emperor William Had a Fall.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—The newspapers assert that the Emperor William had a bad fall in his room, Saturday, though its effects were only temporary.

A Remarkable Escape.

Mrs. Mary A. Dailey, of Tunkhannock, Pa., was afflicted for six years with Asthma and Bronchitis, during which time the best physicians could give no relief. Her life was despaired of, until in last October she procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, when immediate relief was felt, and by continuing its use for a short time she was completely cured, gaining in flesh 50 pounds in a few months.

WILL GO ON THE STAGE.

Victoria Hulskampf to Sing at Niblo's Garden.

YONKERS, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The city courtroom was crowded Monday when Justice Pentz called from the criminal calendar the case of the people of the state of New York against Victoria Hulskampf, nee Morosini, charged by her brother, Attilio Morosini, with having stolen a diamond brooch, the property of his younger sister, when the accused eloped with her husband. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Hulskampf, nor any member of the Morosini family were present. Justice Pentz dismissed the case.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Gilmore, one of the lessees of Niblo's Garden, says that all arrangements have been concluded with Victoria Morosini to sing at that theatre, and that he is only awaiting the signature of the young woman to the contract, which is prepared. By the agreement she is to sing twice a night, in concert costume, in the Rose scene. She will be provided with an elegant costume, costing upward of $600, and the first engagement will continue during the run of the "Seven Ravens," which will not be withdrawn until Thanksgiving.

Domestic Infelicity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Ione Dobson, of Brooklyn, has begun a suit against Mrs. Cornelia V. Hogan for $50,000 damages for alienating the affection of her husband and enticing him away from his home. Mrs. Dobson is the wife of Lewis H. Dobson, a Wall street broker, and Mrs. Hogan was the wife of James W. Hogan, who has, however, procured a divorce from her in consequence of the same offense. Mrs. Dobson alleges that she was living happily with her husband and their five children on Carlton avenue, Brooklyn, when her husband left her. He made the acquaintance of Mrs. Hogan by means of a flirtation in a theatre, and after a time went to live with her. Mrs. Dobson is the daughter of the late Alonzo C. Yates, a millionaire, who spent his winters at 564 Fifth avenue and his summers in a palatial mansion called Renwick castle, in Syracuse. He was living when his daughter, at the age of 17, eloped with Dobson, and sent for a lawyer to change his will so as to deprive her of the legacy he had intended to leave her. Before this was done he died of an attack of heart disease superinduced by excitement over the news of his daughter's action.

Another Missing Financier.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Just as the stock exchange was about to close Monday an alarming story was circulated to the effect that an official of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company had run away a defaulter for several hundred thousand dollars. The stock market immediately showed an increased weakness, and as the gong sounded brokers and messengers rushed pell mell down Exchange place to William street to the office of the Trust company. Vice President W. D. Searles said: "The company has not lost a dollar, and none of its officers have ran away. I will give you $400 for every share of our stock which you can find for sale. The report that there is any trouble whatever in the Trust company is absolutely false."

Subsequently Mr. Searles said: "I suppose the absence of the assistant secretary from his desk may have occasioned remark and led to the rumor. On Saturday afternoon, after leaving the office, he went to the races at Sheepshead bay. Since then I believe he has not been heard from. He did not come to the office this morning and has sent no word—a very unusual thing for him."

The missing assistant secretary is Frank Munn, a man of about 35 years.

Governor Hendricks' Views.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 23.—Governor Hendricks has returned from his second trip to Ohio, impressed with the belief that the Democrats have a good fighting chance for carrying that state. While admitting that it is impossible to judge which way a state will go from attending a single meeting within its borders, he says the great interest observed in Ohio argues well for the Democracy. He has decided to return to Ohio and make one more speech before the election there, and he will probably leave by special train for Columbus on the morning of the 25th.

Corner in Corn in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Corn in the Chicago market Monday opened at 71 cents for September, and at noon sold at 80 cents, the closing price being 79 cents. October advanced from 56½ cents to 58⅜ cents. Who is running the corner can not be definitely ascertained, but it is freely asserted that Phil Armour is the engineer. There was a good deal of suppressed excitement on 'change, and the squeezed ones, although paying their losses promptly, were evidently rather dazed by the turn of affairs. They talk of taking the matter into the courts.

Fast Time with the Sculls.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 23.—The postponed three mile single-skull race between Peter Priddy and Ed Claytor, was rowed Monday evening over the Braddock course. Priddy was given a half length start, and at the end of the first mile was a length ahead of Claytor, the mile being made in the remarkable time of 5 minutes and 55 seconds, the fastest on record. After passing the mile stake, Priddy broke down and allowed Claytor to get in the lead, which he kept without much effort, and finished easily in 21 minutes and 5 seconds.

No Apology for Christianity.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The attendance at the regular meeting of the Boston Evangelical association Monday morning was large, and included ministers from every Evangelical denomination in the city. Principal Fairburn, of Preston, Lancashire, England, addressed the meeting on "Methods and Times of Apologetic Work." The speaker asserted that English scientists were now adopting a far less confident tone. He deprecated apologetic preaching from the pulpit.

Will Keep a Passage Open.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 23.—China has finally agreed to maintain a navigable passage into the Woo Sung river until the French shall have actually threatened an attack upon this city. In consequence the representatives of foreign powers have withheld their protests against the proposed interference with general commerce.

Gen. Rosecrans' Health.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 23.—Gen. Rosecrans, who has been quite ill for the past five days, is out again. The general expects to leave Washington in a few days for Ohio to take an active part in the Democratic canvass of that state.

Fund for Irish Dynamiters.

DUBLIN, Sept. 23.—A fund is being raised here to assist the families of Daly and Egan, who are undergoing life imprisonment for committing outrages by the use of dynamite in Birmingham.

The Cholera.

ROME, Sept. 23.—There were 409 cases of cholera and 226 deaths in Italy during the twenty-four hours ended Monday noon, of which 305 cases and 161 deaths were in Naples.

Hay Fever.

From Col. C. H. Mackey, 33d Iowa Infantry: "To persons afflicted with Catarrh, I would state that I have derived more benefit from Ely's Cream Balm than anything else I have ever tried. I have now been using it for three months and am experiencing no trouble from Catarrh whatever. I have been a sufferer for twenty years. C. H. MACKEY, Sigourney, Feb. 22, 1882.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm for Hay fever, and experienced great relief. I most cordially recommend it as the best of all the many remedies I have tried. T. B. Jenks, Lawyer, Grand Rapids, Mich. Price 50 cents.

For the Fall Trade of

Ladies' Garments,

consisting of

Dolmans, Sacks, Paletots, New Markets, Russian Circulars

Etc. We have these garments in Seal Plush, Plain and Brocaded Silk, and Plain and Diagonal Beavers.

To sum up the matter in a few words, we shall open on Tuesday, September 2d, 1884, the largest and best assortment of ladies fine garments ever shown in the interior of the state. We gave very large orders July 1st, to three different manufacturers of these goods, in order to have our goods made in the dull season of the year, when good help could be obtained to make garments, consequently our garments are much better made than garments are that are made late in the season when everybody is in a hurry, and manufacturers have to take any work they can get. Our garments are all tailor made, far superior to any that will be found at any other house in the city. It is a well known fact that we have taken the entire lead in the sale of ladies fine garments for the past two years, particularly Fine Seal Plush Sacques, Dolmans and Circulars, running in price from $25 to $75. In these goods we defy all competition.

We propose this year to beat any of our former efforts. We have the goods now ready for sale. Parties intending to buy garments this season the sooner they buy them the better the assortment will be to select from. We have now on hand a full assortment of sizes. Last season we had a good deal of trouble in getting sizes late in the season, and had to wait a long time to get them, and the garments were not so well made at that time of year, as they had to be rushed through.

We defy any house in Janesville to show as fine a stock of Seal Plush and Brocade Silk garments as we have at the present time.

We have just received three tons at one shipment of garments. We are told that we can never sell the amount of garments we have just received. We know we can for these garments will sell themselves. All we have to do is to show them.

Ladies desiring fine garments are respectfully requested to call early before the sizes are broken. Also a large stock of misses' and children's garments just received, very cheap.

The Dead Alive.

If most people are afraid of anything, says the Medical and Surgical Reporter, it is of being buried alive. That cases do happen where it is very difficult even for the experienced physician to determine whether a person is really, or but apparently dead without having recourse to means which, while they would at once settle the dispute, would place life, if it really still existed, in jeopardy, may be judged from the fact that the French academy some ten or fifteen years ago, offered a prize of 40,000 francs for the discovery of some means by which even the inexperienced may at once discover whether in a given case, death had ensued or not. A physician obtained the prize. He had discovered that the following well known phenomenon exists: If the hand of the suspected person is held toward the candle or other artificial light, with the fingers stretched, and one touching the other, and one looks through the spaces between the fingers toward the light, there appears a scarlet red color where the fingers touch each other due to the still circulating fluid blood, as it shows itself through the transparent, not yet congested tissues; but when life is extinct this phenomenon at once ceases. The most extensive and thorough trials established the truth of this observation, and the prize was awarded to its discoverer.

When electricity, or rather its application in medicine, came in vogue it was first thought that it would be a means of deciding whether a person was dead or not. This assumption was based on the fact of electro-muscular contraction. But experience soon proved that for one to three hours after death has taken place, and in some cases where rigidity but slowly ensues for a still longer period, the muscles of a dead individual respond as well to the electric stimulus as those of the living.

Dr. Max Buch, now publishes a modification of the above, and what promises to be reliable and scientific proof of death, for thus far no scientific test existed.

While in the living the temperature of the surface over a muscle in the act of, or immediately after contraction decidedly increases, this increase is utterly wanting in the dead, and even during the time (one-half to three hours) in which after death the muscle still retains its contractibility. Having placed, therefore, a surface thermometer on the skin, and having waited until the temperature has continued at one and the same height for about five minutes, the muscle just below the bulb of the thermometer, is made to contract by electric irritation. If then the column of mercury does not rapidly ascend, we have the most definite and scientific proof that life is extinct in the body; while if the temperature increases, it is just as certain that there is still life. Under normal condition the skin, for a considerable distance, increases by several degrees in temperature. if in the muscle below is caused a powerful electrical contraction; and this phenomenon is also observed in paralyzed limbs; while in the dead nerves, the production of heat, as induced by motion, has forever ceased.

Yes, sah!— Yes, sah. We quite agree with yor, sah, that there is a sort of delicious frankness, sah, about the following that will be appreciated beyond the bounds of West Virginia:

Some five or six years ago, when the Greenback party held at least some strength in the south and west, one of their Columbian orators delivered an address for his party at Winfield, Putnam County, West Virginia. When in the zenith of his oration, he was stopped by a powerful voice among the listeners.

"Look here, sah. May I ask you a question, sah?"

"Yes, sah; you may, sah.

"Well, sah' I want to know, sah, if you are not the man, sah, that I had down har in jail, sah, for hog stealing, sah?"

"Yes, sah, I am, sah," came the response; "but I got clar, sah."

Yankee Strategy.

A man living within a half dozen miles of Lewiston, Me., was about to be married, but the state of his finances precluded the purchase of a new suit of clothes for the occasion, so he resorted to diplomacy. He went to a clothing store and, selecting an appropriate suit, told the proprietor that he would like to take them home, and if his family liked them, he would pay for them. The proprietor agreed to the proposal. The next morning, the man returned, radiant and bland, saying his folks did not like them. The groom had, however, been the best dressed man at the wedding.

TROUBLE IN TANGLEFOOT

A Great Louisville, Ky., Whisky Firm in Difficulties.

The Newcomb-Buchanan Company Makes an Assignment for the Second Time—Liabilities About One Million.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 23.—The Newcomb-Buchanan company has made a general assignment of all its property, etc., to George W. Morris for the benefit of its creditors. Individual assignments were also made by George C. and Andrew Buchanan. This is the second time that the Buchanans have been forced into an assignment, and it is feared that they will never again be able to get the concern out of the assignee's hands. At the time they made their first assignment the prospects ahead were much better than they are now, and their creditors, having confidence in their business capabilities and integrity, helped them out. Most every one had confidence in their ability to ultimately pull through, but the continued depression of the whisky market has been too much for them. The assignment was made Saturday night, but did not become known until late Monday. It is said that the liabilities will reach nearly $1,000,000.

George W. Morris, who was trustee for Mr. Buchanan before, and is now the assignee, was seen. He said he could give no information save that an assignment had been made. Three years ago the liabilities of the firm were $1,700,000. The Buchanans secured an extension, arranging to pay preferred claims in three payments. Of these they have successfully met two payments, and have kept up the interest on unpreferred claims. They were given five years. The cause of the failure, Mr. Morris said, was the depressed condition of the whisky trade and the failure of congress to extend the bonded period. On account of the universal stagnation in business, George Buchanan was forced much against his will to make this assignment. He is very much distressed by the turn affairs have taken, as he was making a brave struggle against adversity. Mr. Morris further said that none of the banks would likely be affected. They are certainly no worse off than they were at the time of the first assignment, and the paper of the firm is secured by good collateral. Newcomb, Buchanan & Co. owned the largest sour-mash distillery in the world. Their trade extends throughout the country. If it had not been for the present depressing period in the liquor traffic they would have safely weathered the gale and came out square with the world again. A reporter visited one of the banks, and, on inquiry about the matter, an official said: "We don't know anything about the matter, except that the assignment has been made."

"Was it unexpected?"

"Yes. An employe in Buchanan's office told me not more than a month ago that he thought Mr. Buchanan would pull through. That gentleman himself created the impression by his language and conduct."

"How does it effect the banks here?"

"I do not think the assignment affects them at all."

Blaine at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—The special train bearing the Hon. James G. Blaine and friends and the reception committee of the Union League club of this city, arrived at the Broad Street station at 11:53 Monday night—almost an hour behind time. The party entered carriages at once and were driven to the Continental hotel. A large crowd was waiting the arrival of the distinguished party at the station, and a rush was made to catch a glimpse of Mr. Blaine, but a squad of policemen kept the crowd back. The headquarters of the Republican club were illuminated and the appearance of the carriages containing the distinguished guests was the signal for a discharge of fireworks. At the hotel another large crowd had congregated to catch a glimpse of Blaine, and in response to the prolonged cheers, Mr. Walker Blaine appeared at the landing and made a short address to the people who crowded the corridors of the hotel, thanking them for their warm reception. Mr. Blaine retired at once to his room and received no one but officers of the League club and intimate friends. On his way here Mr. Blaine made a short stop at Newark, N. J., where he was received by a large crowd to which he made a short address.

A Call for Campaign Funds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The national Democratic committee has issued an address to the people requesting contributions to aid in organizing the campaign in all parts of the country. It states that the Democracy has not at its command the power enjoyed by the opposition party to raise money from persons interested in prolonging the present administration. The recorded list of its contributors, however, after victory, will be a roll of honor, such as no party has ever possessed. The address is signed by A. P. Gorman, chairman of the executive committee.

Changes in the Yale Method.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 23.—Yale college now has fifty-six optional studies for students, and has notified preparatory schools that students will prepare one less book of Cæsar, two less orations of Cicero, one less book each of the Anasbasis and Iliad and the time thus gained will be spent in studying French and German. Similar changes are made in other classes, the aim being to give a practical education.

Keene Gets His Cup.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—In compliance with a special order from the secretary of the treasury, Collector Robertson has released to James R. Keene the Ascot cup which has been held nearly six months for non-payment of duty. The cup was won by Foxhall on the English turf three years ago. Mr. Keene will have his property duty free.

The British Navy All Wrong, Too.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Hon. William H. Smith, M. P., for Westminster, writes to the papers indorsing the current criticisms upon the navy, and advising that the subject be discussed at the October session of parliament, and that a committee of inquiry be appointed.

DeLesseps Going to Panama.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—It is stated that M. De-Lesseps will proceed to Panama shortly to superintend the completion of the first section of the canal, which he expects to formally open next year.

Emancipation Celebration.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Sept. 23.—The colored people of this city and adjoining towns celebrated Emancipation day. Governor Hamilton and J. Milton Turner addressed them.

German Elections Ordered.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—The elections for members of the reichstag have been ordered for Oct. 28 in the province of Westphalia.

James Gordon Bennett quietly crossed the continent to visit John W. Mackey, and narrowly escaped death in a railway collision at Port Costa, Cal.

Opening the Fountains.

In numberless bulbs beneath the skin is secreted the liquid substance which gives the hair its texture, color and gloss. When this secretion stops, the hair begins at once to become dry, lustreless, brittle and gray. Is that the condition of your hair? If so, apply Parker's Hair Balsam at once. It will restore the color, gloss and life by renewing the action of nature. The Balsam is not an oil, not a dye, but an elegant toilet article, highly appreciated because of its cleanliness.

Refusing a Uniform.

The Division Superintendent of the Lake Shore Road held a meeting yesterday, up in the time-card room, the painfully plain quarters, where, once a year the Vanderbilts do congregate. The object of the meeting was to arrange details for measuring the employee for their new uniforms. It was decided to run a special train over each division, bearing a corps of tailors to measure the station men and operators, who will be notified by telegraph, somewhat as follows;

"Be on the station platform to be measured for pants, coat, and vest."

Superintendent Curtis, of the Michigan and Air Line Division, arose and said; "Gentlemen, I have one operator and ticket agent at Byran, Ohio who refuses to wear a uniform, and I think we will have to excuse—"

"We can excuse no one," interrupted Mr. Curtis' superior.

"Well, a coat and vest might be devised, but the ticket agent to whom I refer refuses to wear the full regulation uniform, for obvious reasons.

"We can make no exceptions to suit special cases," urged the superior.

"But we will be obliged to in this case," said Mr. Curtis, "for the ticket agent is a lady.

Mr. Curtis took a seat amid a storm of laughter. The train men will be ordered to assemble on a certain day, at the ends of their divisions to be measured. As fast as the measures are taken they will be sent to New York to the firm that is to make the uniforms. The manufacturers have employed a large force of men to complete the uniforms by October 1, only about forty days being left for the task.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

A girl of four years, who said she didn't remember much about her birth, but did know she was born in heaven, for she did 'member of walking in the golden streets, and didn't walk very well because she was so little, not only shows the best memory on record, but evidence of her heavenly origin in her elucidation of the subject of forgiveness. She had been punished by her mother, and confided her trouble to her father when he came home, who told her that God is not pleased with naughty little girls. "But," she argued, "He likes little girls who will forgive, don't He? And I am ready to forgive mamma."—

SHAKESPEARE SAYS:

"Therefore the moon, the governess of floods, Pale in her anger, washes all the air, That rheumatic diseases may abound."

Whether the "pale moon" has increased the size of her wash as the world has increased in population may be a question, but its a fact beyond question that Rheumatism has increased until it does "abound" in "all the air," and thousands of human beings are bound and tormented with the excruciating pains that only Rheumatism and Neuralgia can inflict.

ATHLO-PHOROS

is the ONLY conqueror of these terrible diseases, as hundreds gladly testify.

Mr. O. Thornton, C. R.-I. & P. R. R. Machine Shops, Stuart, Iowa, writes:

"Athlophoros greatly relieved me of distressing Rheumatism, and I willingly recommend it as a remedy that will cure Rheumatism. I was confined to my bed, and after using one bottle was able to go to work."

Even if so strange that at first you may hardly believe it, it IS true that "ATHLOPHOROS" will do for YOU just what it has done for others.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed.

POSTPONED.

The democratic excursion which was to have taken place this evening, has been postponed until Saturday evening. The tickets sold will be good for that time.

Briefiets.

—Janesville City Lodge No. 90, I. O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows' hall this evening.

—Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythirs, assemble in Castle hall this evening.

—Beloit had a thousand dollar fire on Sunday night—a barn was burned and several adjoining buildings damaged.

—Everybody will go to Beloit to-morrow evening to witness and take part in the republican torch light procession.

—All members of the Blaine and Logan Invincibles are requested to attend the meeting this evening at their armory.

—The Ladies' aid society of the Baptist church, will meet with Mrs. Pratt, on North Jackson street, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

—Parties wanting refreshment stands or priviliges at the Rock county fair can be accommodated by calling upon the secretary, W. T. Vankirk.

—There will be a meeting of the Ladies society of All Souls church at the church parlors, Wednesday, September 24. Tea served at six o'clock.

—The annual meeting of the ladies' benevolent society of the Congregational church will be held in the church parlors Friday afternoon, September 26.

—A drenching rain storm set in here at an early hour this morning, and continued until after seven o'clock. Considerable water fell in the course of a few hours.

—Robert Forge, of Lake Mills, Jefferson county, has been nominated for congress by the prohibitionists. The convention was held at Whitewater, and as usual, the speeches were all directed against the republican party.

—Secretary Vankirk reports that entries are being made in great numbers for the county fair next week, and the prospects are for a most successful exhibition. Exhibitors requiring space should lose no time in making their applications.

Prof. F. W. Spencer, the noted violin and guitar teacher, who is at present in the city, may be heard in solos on each of these instruments, at Mrs. Day's entertainment, next Monday evening, at Cannon's hall. His playing is simply wonderful.

—There are a few unsold tickets for the Chicago excursion to-morrow that can be bought this evening at R. W. King's and at Prentice & Evenson's. If any are unsold to-night they can be bought at the ticket office at the Chicago and Northwestern railway to-morrow morning. The train will leave at 7 a. m.

—While several of the business men are making arrangements to close out their stocks preparatory to retiring from business, the old and reliable firm of Foote & Wilcox give public notice that they intend to stay right here in Janesville, and will keep on giving the people better bargains each season. They give their announcement in another column, and have some extra bargains for the boys.

—The republicans of the first school superintendent district of this county, yesterday, at Footville, renominated Mr. J. Boyd Jones, of Evansville, for superintendent of schools on the first formal ballot, Mr. Jones receiving 16 votes to 5 for Wm. M. Ross. The nomination is a good one, and Mr. Jones will be handsomely endorsed by the people. The proceedings of the convention will be found in another column.

—We notice that Mr. John Shortney, the ever faithful and always reliable cashier at the large dry goods establishment of Mr. M. C. Smith, is back at his post again. Mr. Shortney left the store during the first week in April last on account of sickness, and for many weeks he was exceedingly ill. Hundreds of his old friends will be glad to hear of his return to duty, and trust that his improved condition of health will long continue.

—And now comes Mr. Fred Sonneborn, the popular proprietor of the Star Clothing house, in the Myers house, with the announcement that he has determined to sell out his immense stock of ready made clothing, hats, caps and gent's furnishing goods, as he intends locating in the east. The sale will take place, commencing at once and continue until the first of January, at which time he expects the whole stock will be closed out. Mr. Sonneborn has one of the best assortments of ready made goods to be found in the west, embracing every variety, and style, and he has knocked the bottom right out of values, that he may dispose of the goods. All who take advantage of this great sale will be benefited and no mistake.

—The local weather prophet is about town again—the one who knows all about the coming winter weather. He informed a reporter of the Gazette that his calculations were based upon his life experience which extended over half a century, together with the experience of his father before him. Said he—"If the wind prevails from a southerly direction at the time the sun crosses the equator that will be the prevailing winds for the following six months, and the same if prevailing from a northerly direction. The wind being from the south on the 21st, the time when the sun crossed the equator, such will be the prevailing wind during the coming winter; hence you may expect a mild, open winter season such as has not been experienced in this section for many years." We promised to make a note of it, and have complied.

—An instance of true-blue republicanism: A man with much worn clothes and an old grip-sack, arrived in the city to-day from Milwaukee, having walked the entire distance. He was tired and hungry when he reached Janesville, and was anxious to go to Beloit. He heard some one say that there would be an excursion to Beloit this evening, and for every-one who would carry a torch in the procession, a ticket on the railway would be given him. "Did I understand," he said, "that a railway ticket would be bought for any one who would carry a torch at Beloit to-night?" "Yes," said a democrat. "But what kind of a demonstration is it?" inquired the weary pilgrim. "A Cleveland and Hendricks procession," responded a democrat. "Well," said the fellow, "I am pretty tired and my feet are sore, and I haven't money enough to pay my fare, but I guess I'll walk before I promise to carry a torch in a democratic procession."

A Fire Cistern Located On the Central School Grounds.

Miscellaneous Proceedings of the Council.

The board of aldermen held a regular meeting in the common council chamber last evening at which His Honor, Mayor Richardson, presided, all the members answering to their names except Ald. Daly, Lennartz, Potter and Rooney.

The journal of the last meeting was read and approved.

Pending the reading of the journal Ald. Daly and Potter took their seats.

Mr. D. P. Smith presented a complaint of an over assessment of his property. Referred to the judiciary committee.

The clerk read a report from Chief Engineer James Foster, of the fire department, relating to the proceedings of the national board of fire engines at their meeting in Chicago last week, which he attended. The report was accompanied by an expense bill of $13.80, which was allowed.

The clerk read a communication from Mr. D. T. Scanlan, complaining of a culvert adjoining his premises. Placed on file.

Several bills against the various funds were read by the clerk, and appropriately referred.

Ald. Rooney took his seat.

Ald. Smith, of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing bills against the various funds as follows:

|---|---|
| General fund | $ 693 27 |
| First ward fund | 157 84 |
| Second ward fund | 106 51 |
| Third ward fund | 47 74 |
| Fourth ward fund | 63 70 |
| Fifth ward fund | 10 18 |
| Fire department fund | 14 05 |

| Total | $1,111 75 |

The report was concurred in.

The bill of Thoroughgood & Co. for lumber destroyed by the fire department, was withdrawn.

Ald. McLean, of the fire department committee, reported that owing to objections of residents of Madison street, to the location of the first ward fire cistern on that street, the committee, after having commenced work on the same, had ordered the workmen to stop further proceedings, and the excavation had been replaced.

After an explanation from Ald. Potter, showing the objections of the residents that gentleman moved that the order locating the cistern be canceled. Adopted.

Ald. Daly then moved that the cistern be located at the Central school building. Adopted.

On motion of Ald. Shearer, the tax assessed against the fifth ward school property for grading Linn street, $17.35, was ordered paid, and an order drawn for the amount.

On motion of Ald. Daly, the committee on fire department was instructed to construct the fire cistern at the central school building, at a cost not to exceed the appropriation.

Ald. Kenyon, of the gas committee, was granted further time to consider matters before that committee.

Ald. Palmer stated that Messrs. Doty & McKey had located their scales in Dodge street, in an objectional place, and contrary to the wish of other people interested in that street, and not in accordance with the wish of the council.

On motion of Ald. McLean the matter was referred to the highway, street and bridge committee.

City Attorney Smith reported that the city bonds presented by J. B. Doe, Jr., to the treasurer for payment, were void by the statute of limitation, they having been outlawed in 1879.

In the matter of the Linn street grading tax of Gateley & King, he asked further time. Report accepted and placed on file, and time granted.

Ald. Shearer, from the special committee to assess the damages and place the benefits for the extension of Dixson street, made his report, fixing the damages at $78.43. Report adopted.

Street Commissioner O'Brien made his report of work performed in the first ward, but it not being exactly what the aldermen wanted, it was referred back to that officer to complete.

Ald. Burnham, an order directing the street commissioner to construct a box culvert across Hickory street, and replank culvert on Glen street. Adopted.

Ald. Smith, an order for the payment of $18 to Officer J. H. Dyer, as special police. Adopted.

Mayor Richardson announced that he had appointed P. McGinley and Ed. Smith as special police for Saturday nights and Sundays, until December 31st, 1884. The appointments were confirmed.

Ald. Shearer, an order instructing the street commissioner to construct a box culvert on the south side of Jackson street, across Bluff street. Adopted.

Permission was granted Mr. John G. Saxe to explain his reason for presenting a bill for damages to his property by the smoke from one of the fire engines. The matter was referred to the fire department committee.

Ald. Palmer stated that Captain Norcross was ready to construct a well at the foot of Dodge street, when the council located the same.

On motion of Ald. McLean the matter was referred to the fire committee.

The council adjourned.

All the gold of Golconda would not purchase the peace and happiness that Mr. C. R. Bruner, of Urbana, O., found by the use of Athlophoros, the new and powerful specific for that distressing malady, rheumatism. "It is worth its weight in gold," he writes. Mr. Bruner's case was a very bad one. He had to be turned in bed on a sheet. He began using Athlophoros one morning, and after taking four doses, arose without help, and walked out to breakfast without the use of canes. He unreservedly recommends the medicine to all persons suffering from rheumatic diseases.

THE TOBACCO MARKET.

Seed Leaf, Sumatra and Havana, for the Week Ending Saturday.

[From the United States Tobacco Journal, Sept. 20th, 1884.]

NEW YORK, September 20th.—Again the memories of the oldest inhabitants of the leaf market have been brought into requisition for the discovery of a similar dullness in leaf circles as existed this week. The "street" was deserted almost, and the faces of leaf merchants were signs of too free an indulgence in funeral reminiscences.

Then came authenticated reports of a number of rejections of 1883 Wisconsin Havana seed, and the cup of misery was full. In justice to holders of '83 Wisconsin Havana seed and in order to avoid making a wrong impression upon prospective buyers, it must be mentioned that in most cases, these rejections were simply due to the difference between packers' and stripped samples. It is the old story over again that selling by packers' samples is a good thing for the buyer. If business is fair, if the goods turn out any-way near packers' samples and there is a prospect of higher prices, the difference between the packers' and the stripped samples are treated in a somewhat fraternal spirit; but when the market is dull, when prices show no inclination for ascendancy, and when the prospects are not too sunny, the seller by packers' samples sees trouble. The only fault the '83 Wisconsin Havana seed seems to have is that it is too dear; and, therefore, even an imaginary difference between the old and new samples serves the purpose and the goods are sent back. There is nothing unsound in the '83 Wisconsin Havana seed, but there is not a sufficient amount of wrappers in lots. The goods were bought from growers when Sumatra was expected to pay a duty of 75 cents; under such circumstances the prices paid were not too high; now that Sumatra pays 35 cents, the goods are too high. Owing to these occurrences the interest of the buyers draws toward '83 New York state. Up to date the transactions therein have been very insignificant. There is nobody of consequence to say that this tobacco is good or is bad. So far it is said, as a non-committal way of saying something, that it is too high.

The '83 Pennsylvania, after all, seems to stand a good chance of being sold ahead of Wisconsin, as well as New York state Havana seed. Holders have not paid extravagant figures for it; there is some good wrapper stock to be found, and its best quality is that it is a great deal cheaper than Sumatra. The '83 Connecticut wrappers, too, have improved somewhat during the past month, especially during the warm weather, and here and there some very acceptable goods can be found. The seconds though have deteriorated greatly. They are poor and much too high in price.

This period of stagnation is bound to end shortly; people will and must come into the market to buy. They will buy Wisconsin Havana seed if it goes lower; they will buy state Havana seed, under about the same condition, provided the tobacco will be faultless in burning; they will buy the '83 Pennsylvania at profitable prices to holders of good stock and at downright begging prices for poor stock. The same condition will prevail in '83 Connecticut. Ohio, the Cinderella of the market, will flow into the old channels. Export will again take most of it; the balance is joy to manufacturers of cheap cigars. The few sales made during the week comprised one of 200 cases of '83 Pennsylvania at 14½ cents, to a manufacturer. Several more were reported, but they emanated from a poetical nature.

Owing to the dimensions of transactions, specifications are omitted.

In Sumatra as well as in Havana business also was exceedingly dull; in fact, the week was one of the dreariest ever experienced in the market.

THE INQUEST.

The Jury Again Adjourn Until Thursday Morning.

The jury summoned to hold an inquest upon the remains of Mrs. Margret J. La Sears, who died on Sunday night at the Central house, an account of which was published in last evening's Gazette, met at Justice Prichard's office at nine o'clock this morning, the physicians engaged in the post mortem examination not being ready to testify, an adjournment was taken until Thursday morning at nine o'clock.

Mr. J. M. La Sears, of Manchester, Iowa, a son of the deceased woman, arrived in the city at six o'clock this morning, and not being able to remove the remains to Iowa, arrangements were made for their interment in Oak Hill cemetery, the funeral being held at three o'clock this afternoon, Rev. C. E. Goldthorpe conducting the services.

No new developments have come to light concerning her death, and probably will not until the doctors testify before the coroners jury on Thursday.

BOOM!

Milwaukee Exposition.

"The best arranged and most attractive exposition ever held in Milwaukee,"

Everybody says so.

Twenty five hundred people passed through the gates on the opening night and over 800 viewed the great panorama of "the Battle of Lookout Mountain."

The exhibits are all in place and every thing in fine running order.

The display is full of interest and the novelties are surrounded by delighted throngs.

Among the many attractive exhibits may be named the incubators, hatching broods of chickens daily.

The suspender and carpet looms are in operation.

The roller-mill grinding flour.

The ivory cutters with their lashes.

The Japanese artists at work.

The complete printing office with its daily paper; uniformed news-boys and full editorial staff.

The antique and beautiful exhibit of the C. M. & St. Paul Ry.

The mammoth sturgeons at play in the great fountain basin.

The grand aquaria and many others too numerous to mention.

The superb art gallery pronounced by such judges as William Bradford and Eastman Johnson, two of the most noted artists of the day, the finest of any exposition in the country, is of itself worth a long journey to see.

The famous Bradford collection of Arctic paintings, is now on view and the artist and arctic traveler, Bradford himself has charge of his own gallery.

At night, lighted to almost dazzling brilliancy with the hundreds of electric lamps, the great building with its myriad exhibits, is almost fairyland.

Milton.

—The first republican rally of the campaign in this village was a success in all particulars. College chapel was filled and Hon. L. B. Caswell, the next member of congress from this district, made an excellent speech, one that appealed to thought rather than passion, and replete with convincing facts and figures. At the conclusion of the address, which was preceded and followed by excellent campaign music under the direction of Dr. J. M. Stillman, the organization of the Blaine and Logan club was perfected with the following officers: President, P. M. Green; secretary, John A. Randolph; treasurer, I. P. Morgan. On Thursday evening the college boys held a meeting to organize a students Blaine and Logan marching club. Some thirty or forty joined and more are being added. The organization will be perfected this week and torches and uniforms ordered.

—The state fair was not as liberally patronized by our citizens as heretofore. The republicans who were present Wednesday were heartily disgusted with St. John and his speech.

—Leave your watches and jewelry at W. W. Clarke's at the postoffice, for repairs.

—A. Deloss Burdick and wife, of Racine, arrived in town Saturday night. They will remain this week and attend the golden wedding of H. G. Hamilton and wife. Their many friends here are glad to meet them and enjoy a good visit with them.

—A. S. Maxson, M. D., and wife, of Motley, Minnesota, arrived in town last week, and will visit their Milton relatives and friends for a time. Everybody is glad to greet them at their old home.

—Blaine campaign pins, only 25 cents, at W. W. Clarke's.

—W. H. Lane is getting his mill ready for the machinery which he ordered when east. He hopes to be ready to grind feed early in November. When his mill is finished he will have the most complete establishment of the kind in southern Wisconsin, equipped with the best roller system.

—The new furnaces in the college building are ready for use and as soon as "Jack Frost" makes us a visit will be given a trial.

—Albert Brown is convalescent from his attack of typhoid fever, but his wife is now very low with the same disease.

—Williams & Dunn, have begun shipping limed eggs to the Chicago market.

—Green is delivering coal to his patrons for winter use at $8 per ton. Prices are likely to be higher later in the season.

—Prof. Stillman's vocal class will give a concert in college chapel this (Thursday) evening. The programme will be an excellent one, and an attractive feature will be the rendition of the campaign song composed by Professor Stillman. Admission 25 cents; children 15 cents. Let everybody turn out and give our friend Stillman a benefit on this occasion.

—Prof. A. Whitford and Rev. E. M. Dunn, left Monday for West Virginia, to attend the annual conference of the Seventh-Day Baptists.
